Old Business:

Exhibits:

Aullwood: it appears as if Aullwood has not done anything to promote the 2019 show. No other news is available.

19th Amendment: Wright State University has requested the Crazy Quilt be displayed in the Women's Center in February 2020 as a teaser to the 19th Amendment exhibit in March 2020. Please contact Molinda if you don't want your square to be included.

The Woodbourne exhibit comes down on March 25th.

The next venue is Dayton Metro Library in June. If you haven't turned in your quilt yet, it needs to be turned in by May 1st.

There might be an opportunity to exhibit the quilts at Art In The City, August 2, 2019. Venue is unknown at this time. They are also considering the Landscape quilts.

Mother Goose Quilts: Will be mounted on purple poster board with brads. There are currently eleven made. They will be hung at the Dayton Metro Library. Ann will mount the squares if you give them to her.

Senior Center in Yellow Springs: The membership agreed to have an exhibit April, May, & June 2020. There is no theme, size is restricted to no larger than 2ft by 3ft, the Senior Center takes 30% of sales. Fran is the contact.

Creative Quilters: There has been no word regarding our group making a presentation at one of their meetings.

President's Project: due at the May meeting. There will be prizes.

New Business:

MINI BOARD MEETING: the board voted to have Ronnie order bookmarks.

Troy-Hayner has suggested that members of MVAQN might like to donate little quilts to be used as door prizes for their April event "Tea With Mrs. Hayner". Contact Carroll or Leona Sargeant.

Troy-Hayner: Applications for 2020 and 2021 exhibits are now being taken. They are interested in both individuals and/or a small group. Contact Leona Sargeant.

Rosewood: Applications for The View due April 18, 2019.

The Board would like ideas for programs for next year. Are you interested learning a new skill like tatting? Do you have a skill to share? Is there something special you would like to learn?

Study Group:

Tuesday, April 2nd , 6:30 to 8:30 pm, Dayton Metro Library, downtown Dayton

Other:

TIP: Harriet demonstrated a seam ripper with an eraser on one end. Use the seam ripper to cut the thread, then use the eraser to pull the threads out.

1st weekend in April is the one stop shop hop. <http://www.ohioonestopshophop.com/>
